

merging data

Hi

How do I merge data from two computers onto one. I have been in touch with Dr Joe Ventura for the last hour.

Presently, there is no method available in the software to merge two databases together .if this is attempted records from one database will override the same record number in the original database .there is no workaround for this. This is an option we will look at in the future, but frankly the need for this is so rare it has not been a priority.

Online URL: <https://posturepro.phpkb.cloud/article.php?id=125>