

What is the AXION Wave Mask System

AXION Wave Face Mask System

The AXION Wave Face Mask System is an advanced facial rejuvenation tool designed to enhance collagen production, improve skin hydration, and promote a youthful, radiant complexion. This multi-component system integrates cutting-edge microcurrent technology with innovative materials and products for superior results.

Components:

1. Wave Graphene Full Face Mask

- Material: Made with graphene-infused filaments for excellent conductivity and even microcurrent distribution.
- Function: Enhances the penetration of active ingredients and stimulates skin cells for improved collagen and elastin production.

2. DecoShield for Chest Area

- Material: Conductive shield designed for the décolletage.
- Function: Extends rejuvenation benefits to the chest area for comprehensive treatment coverage.

3. Serum+ (8 oz Bottle)

- Description: A proprietary formula optimized for microcurrent use.
- Function: Provides hydration, improves skin elasticity, and prepares the skin for enhanced microcurrent delivery.

4. Activator Powder

- Description: Transforms Serum+ into a hydrating solution for use with cotton sub-masks.
- Function: Boosts skin hydration and locks in moisture during treatments.

5. Cotton Sub-Masks

- Description: Disposable masks used beneath the graphene face mask.
- Function: Aids in delivering Serum+ evenly across the face and chest areas.

Technology:

- Microcurrent Delivery: Uses True Microcurrent from the AXION Wave 0.3Hz device to stimulate skin cells and boost natural repair processes.
- Patented Tsunami Wave Technology: Provides consistent and effective microcurrent distribution for optimal treatment results.

Benefits:

- Boosts collagen and elastin production for improved skin firmness.
- Reduces fine lines and wrinkles for a more youthful appearance.
- Deeply hydrates the skin, enhancing its texture and glow.

- Supports a non-invasive approach to facial rejuvenation.
- Safe and suitable for all skin types.

Ideal For:

The AXION Wave Face Mask System is perfect for estheticians and wellness practitioners offering non-toxic, high-tech facial treatments to clients seeking effective anti-aging solutions.

This innovative system is a key component of the BEAM program, promoting non-invasive aesthetics with transformative results.
