Is the grid used to explain current posture(distortion) versus normal posture?

Is the grid used to explain current posture(distortion) versus normal posture?

That is one of the uses of the grid. It also provides a professional backdrop for taking the posture images.