You click for the picture you want to apply the compensation to.

OK Button accepts the readings for the Loss of Height feature. See the instruction manual or video help for full details.